MARION GARDNER JACKSON CHARITABLE TRUST

Bank of America, Trustee

BACKGROUND

The Marion Gardner Jackson Charitable Trust was established by Marion Gardner Jackson, the granddaughter of local industrialist Robert W. Gardner, founder of the Gardner-Denver Company. Before her death in 1976, Mrs. Jackson set up a perpetual trust to aid religious, charitable, scientific, literary and educational organizations in the Quincy, Illinois area. Approximately $10.8 million has been distributed to charitable agencies serving the Adams County area since the first grant was awarded in 1978.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Marion Gardner Jackson Charitable Trust, with Bank of America as Trustee, awards grants on an annual basis to aid religious, charitable, scientific, literary and educational organizations in the Quincy, Illinois area. The Trust will consider applications from not-for-profit organizations that provide services for residents of Quincy, Illinois and the surrounding communities in Adams County. No grants will be made to individuals.

The Fund will make grants in two categories:

Capital Grants – Applicants may apply for grants for one to five years to support capital projects that support the mission of the organization and/or the stated outcome of a program or project.

Program/Operating Support Grants – Applicants with organizational budgets of $1 million or less may apply for grants of up to $25,000 per year for up to 3 years for program or general operating support. For program support grants, the yearly request may not be more than 50% of the program's budget

Organizations may submit only one application per year to only one of the two categories. Organizations may not have more than one award from the Trust in any given year. Those receiving a multi-year award from the Trust that continues into the next grant year are not eligible to apply for an additional grant until the end of the grant cycle.

As a condition for accepting grant monies, grantees must provide annual programmatic and financial reports detailing the use of the funds and documenting the progress of the capital campaign/capital project or documenting the impact achieved by their use. Receipt of second through fifth year funding for multi-year grants will be dependent on the submission of the annual financial and project/programmatic reports. Report outlines will be provided with award letters. These reports must be received no later than December 15th.

Applicants will receive a formal notification from the Trustee during the first two weeks of January.
