A letter from our president

As we reflect on the past year, United Way has a lot to be proud of.

The organization demonstrated its strength, its collaborative nature, and its commitment to supporting our partners in 2020. Thanks to the incredible support from our community we exceeded our campaign goal of $1.1M which will allow us to increase our financial investment in our partner agencies. We continue to work with the Adams County Together Committee and Adams County Board to distribute COVID relief funds in the community. We adopted the Good News of Christmas program and, with the support of our community, we helped provide a wonderful Christmas to 40 families in need. We also helped support the unfortunate shutdown of the Welcome Inn and all the displaced families and residents find responsible housing. All of this and more was made possible by our excellent staff, amazing volunteer groups, and most importantly, the continued support of our community.

The organization is strong as we enter 2022. Jeremy Wingerter is doing an excellent job as Executive Director and the staff is as strong as it has ever been. The board is full of smart, compassionate, and engaged members. Our campaign cabinet is in place, and I'm confident of another successful campaign under the leadership of the chairs Bryan and Brooke Stokes. Finally, I know that the President Elect, Nancy Bluhm will do an excellent job leading this organization through 2022. Thank you for your support of this organization as we all continue to live united.

The Good News of Christmas campaign, sponsored by the Herald-Whig and United Way, spreads holiday cheer to individuals and families in need. More than $1.75MM, along with countless volunteer hours and services, has been donated to help over 1,500 families get back on their feet since the campaign began in 1988. Families throughout the Herald-Whig circulation area are selected each year to receive aid by caseworkers familiar with their situation.

What does United Way mean to you?

My wife and I have been very blessed in life. The United Way has provided us an opportunity to give back and pay it forward for others in the community. At the same time, we have gained so much ourselves through working with volunteers who give of themselves in time, money and energies to help where needed.

has always helped me fulfill a personal philosophy/code; "Count the day lost that we don't do something to benefit the communities we serve."

Ron Wallace,

VP of Newspapers, Publisher, Herald-Whig

Why did you volunteer for United Way of Adams County?

I have been involved with the United Way since 1983 in 8 states. Worked with most committees and multiple boards. I guess at some point it just became a part of our life; it's what you do! The United Way

Why are you encouraged for the future of the United Way?

I know the United Way will flourish in their mission for years to come; as I look around the room at United Way meetings/functions, I see intelligent, energetic, enthusiastic individuals who are serious about making life better for people in need. The current leadership, management team, Board and Volunteers could and would accomplish whatever needed to fulfill objectives. Because of each of you, I have eternal hope for the future of the United Way of Adams County.

What does United Way mean to me?

Personally, an opportunity to volunteer and hopefully contribute to making our community a better place to live. I am continually impressed by how many others who volunteer and our local businesses that must feel the same.

Why did you volunteer for United Way of Adams County?

I was asked by a family friend to be a worker on the 1974 annual campaign and encouraged to do so by my employer. It was an eye opening experience to not only see how I had benefited from UW partner agencies being raised in Quincy but also the depth of services available through them. From there volunteering on annual campaigns, being chairman of the 51st campaign and a board member became very easy.

Why are you encouraged for the future of United Way?

A lot of different things over a lengthy period of time. Mostly UWAC's ability to adapt to the needs of children and families in the county and provide resources to address them with the support of local businesses, individuals and charitable benefactors.

Randy McFarland,

Sr. Vice President & Trust Officer, Mercantile Bank

Thank you for your time and service

Investment Advisor, IPI Wealth Management

What does United Way mean to you?

Our United Way serves as the hub for community support, creating alliances and partnerships that allow for efficient and cost-effective services to help those in need. This is especially evident in times of crisis, such as natural disasters, tragedies and health scares such as the recent pandemic. Our United Way makes our partner organizations stronger and our partnerships allow the United Way to serve the people of our community. We absolutely need a strong United Way.

Why did you volunteer for United Way of Adams County?

I realize I am blessed, and that is because of the support I have in my life. I feel obligated to help those who have no support and just need a chance to be better. Volunteering thru the United Way of Adams County is the best way to do that. I have thoroughly enjoyed my 7 years on the board and have no plans to stop volunteering at the United Way in some capacity.

Why are you encouraged for the future of United Way?

There will always be a need and there will always be people that care. I believe I am leaving the Board at a time when leadership is strong, staff is dedicated and services are fully developed. This is evident to me in the way the challenges of the last couple of years were masterfully handled. I'm proud of my time on the board and confident that the organization will remain strong.

What does United Way mean to you?

Through our continued efforts we help kids, adults and families strengthen and enrich their lives and our community.

Why did you volunteer for United Way of Adams County?

I started volunteering for United Way to try to help make a small difference by serving their Mission of advancing education, financial stability and health for all.

Why are you encouraged for the future of United Way?

I am encouraged for two very simple facts. The continued support from our generous community members and business partners, and the leadership of staff and board and the many volunteers in our community. They donate their valuable time to serve United Way Adams County and their Mission and are focused on building a better community for those we serve.

President, John Wood Community College

Alana's Angels Fundraising Committee

Community advocates dedicated to significantly support the community through the United Way Mission that impacted those in need the most.

Each year the Mission of United Way is made possible by the incredible generosity of those within our community. Last year a group of caring individuals put those words into action.

In early 2021 a group of ladies, who affectionately call themselves 'Alana's Angels', helped plan United Way of Adams County's biggest fundraiser to-date.

"It really started off as just an idea amongst friends," said co-organizer Caroline Campbell. "As the months went on more and more interest was shown and it blossumed into this magical event that helped raise a lot of money for a great cause."

That 'cause' was the United Way's 2021 annual campaign;

investing in Adams County through areas of health, education, and financial stability. Campbell, along with her friends Elisha Freiburg, Alana Flynn (the group's namesake), Erin Knapheide, and Allie McCleery helped plan and execute a garden party at a local residence in October 2021. Through their efforts, and the support of the many that attended, United Way raised over $80,000 for the annual campaign.

"We are so incredibly grateful for these wonderful women," said Jeremy Wingerter, executive director of United Way. "Their efforts helped us reach our campaign goal this year and their support and friendship means the world to us and our organization."

Thank you to the planning committee Caroline Campbell, Alana Flynn, Elisha Freiburg, Erin Knapheide, Allie McCleery.

A special thank you to Bo and Erin Knapheide.
